Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 11 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy spells, but also some very warm sunshine Friday.

Today:
A rather dull and cloudy, but dry start to the morning for many parts. Cloud lifting and breaking through the morning with some very warm spells of sunshine by early afternoon. Turning cloudier from the northwest later, though remaining dry. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry overnight with evening cloud gradually clearing. Rather humid in towns and cities, though feeling fresher in more rural parts. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Saturday:
A widely sunny start, though some patchy cloud developing by mid-morning. Prolonged sunshine expected through the afternoon. Warm or very warm inland, though slightly fresher along some North Sea coasts. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Another sunny and very warm, perhaps hot day Sunday. Turning cloudier Monday, but still warm or very warm and sunny for a time. Dry, very warm and sunny on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.